Tuesday, October 14, 10:00 am. we will be hosting Beth-El Synagogue for a Shemini Atzeret/Simkhat Torah service, with Yizkor, and concluding the Holiday season with the Kiddush luncheon.

And I hope to be in the Sukkah during the mid-day periods, either studying or just hanging out if you would like to join with me on the experience, probably more likely on Thursday thru Sunday of this week, and suggest that you contact me for coordination.

High Holy Day Review

During my time at Beth Jacob, we've only considered reviewing our High Holy Day services promptly once; typically, we delay until summer when other priorities take over. Even in the year we planned a quick review, it was postponed again.

In recognition of this significant day, we will hold a review session on Monday, October 20, at 7:00 pm via ZOOM only, for what works and what does not work. If you are unable to attend, please inform me so that I can arrange to collect your information separately.

B'Shalom,

A Message from your Shabbat Gabbi"

This week we begin year one of the triennial cycle with the Book of Genesis, Parshah Breshit, "In The Beginning". The reading recounts the story of creation in six days. On the first day God made darkness and light. On the second day he formed the heavens, dividing the sky from the earth. On the third day He set the boundaries of land and sea and called forth trees and flowers and grass from the earth. On the fourth He fixed the position of the sun, moon and stars. Fish, birds and reptiles (like snakes and lizards) were created on the fifth day. On the sixth day land animals and then the human being Adam. God ceased work on the seventh day, and sanctified it as a day of rest, it was Shabbat. For those with access to a copy of the Etz Hayim (or any other volume that contains the Five Books of Moses), the triennial reading can be found starting at Chapter 1 at verse 1, Page 3 of the Etz Hayim. The weekly reading concludes on page 12 at the end of verse 3 of Chapter 2.
